

Afterschool Progress Report and Consumer Guide: Indiana

How Indiana is Helping to Keep the Lights on After School

Afterschool in Indiana

Afterschool programs are showing some gains in Indiana, but program availability is still a major concern in the state. Just 10 percent of K-12 youth in Indiana are in an afterschool program while 30 percent go home to an empty house after the school day ends. With greater awareness of the educational impact that afterschool programs are having on children in the state, hopefully more funding will come and more children will be able to enjoy the state's rich afterschool offerings.

Growth in Afterschool Participation

Based on the FY2011 funding level and an average per student cost of $1000, 21st Century Community Learning Centers (21st CCLC) can serve 18,855 students in Indiana. However, that is only a small fraction of the 452,888 kids in Indiana who are eligible to participate in a 21st CCLC program, if more funding were available.

Consumer Guide: Indiana

For many adults in America, thinking about the hours after the school day ends conjures up memories of doing homework, playing pick-up basketball, taking guitar or dance lessons or going home to Mom and a snack. But for millions of children today, those images are nothing like their reality. In fact, each day in America, more than 15 million children—some as young as 5 years old—are without supervision at home or on the streets.

The Afterschool Alliance has a host of resources that can help ensure that your child can enjoy the safe environment and proven academic and social gains that afterschool programs can afford.

Methodology:

The 2011 State-by-State Progress Reports and Consumer Guides are sponsored by jcpenny. Scores for the Progress Reports were devised using a range of factors falling under three major categories: Growth in Afterschool Participation, Developments in State Afterschool Policy and Funding and Advancements in State Afterschool Leadership. Data from the America After 3PM survey, also sponsored by jcpenny, was used in assessing the afterschool participation portion of the Progress Reports. Between March and May 2009, 29,754 parents/guardians were surveyed for America After 3PM. The remainder of the Progress Reports and Consumer Guides were created utilizing up to date policy and leadership developments obtained from afterschool leaders in the states, most notably the forty statewide afterschool networks. The 2011 State-by-State Progress Reports and Consumer Guides reflect the data and resources available at the time of their release in October 2011.
