

Afterschool Progress Report and Consumer Guide: Nevada

How Nevada is Helping to Keep the Lights on After School

Afterschool in Nevada

For the most part, Nevada trends with the rest of the nation in terms of afterschool participation and self-care rates. However, as is the case nationwide, more children in Nevada need access to afterschool programs. Sixteen percent of K-12 youth in Nevada are in an afterschool program, while 28 percent go home to an empty house after the school day ends. Increased resources and funding for afterschool programs will allow even more children to enjoy the state's rich afterschool offerings and keep more kids out of trouble.

Growth in Afterschool Participation

Nevada	2004	2009
Percentage of Kids in Afterschool Programs	13%	16%
Percentage of Kids in Self Care	25%	28%
Percentage of Parents Extremely/Somewhat Satisfied with Afterschool Program	100%	79%
Percentage of Kids Who Would Participate if an Afterschool Program were Available	38%	38%
Percentage of Kids in Summer Learning Programs	--	15%

Based on the FY2011 funding level and an average per student cost of $1000, 21st Century Community Learning Centers (21st CCLC) can serve 7,046 students in Nevada. However, that is only a small fraction of the 143,784 kids in Nevada who are eligible to participate in a 21st CCLC program, if more funding were available.

Leading State for Afterschool with Room to Grow

"We have disproportionate numbers of latch-key kids, transitory students and an exploding ESL school-age population. On top of that, students face the constant temptation to drop out of school and take a job in our local tourism industry. The afterschool programs and the dropout prevention programs are more important to southern Nevada than virtually any other community in the country."

Consumer Guide: Nevada

For many adults in America, thinking about the hours after the school day ends conjures up memories of doing homework, playing pick-up basketball, taking guitar or dance lessons or going home to Mom and a snack. But for millions of children today, those images are nothing like their reality. In fact, each day in America, more than 15 million children—some as young as 5 years old—are without supervision at home or on the streets.

The Afterschool Alliance has a host of resources that can help ensure that your child can enjoy the safe environment and proven academic and social gains that afterschool programs can afford.

- The How to Find an Afterschool Program Guide offers tips to find the best afterschool options for your child.

Methodology:

The 2011 State-by-State Progress Reports and Consumer Guides are sponsored by jcpenny. Scores for the Progress Reports were devised using a range of factors falling under three major categories: Growth in Afterschool Participation, Developments in State Afterschool Policy and Funding and Advancements in State Afterschool Leadership. Data from the America After 3PM survey, also sponsored by jcpenny, was used in assessing the afterschool participation portion of the Progress Reports. Between March and May 2009, 29,754 parents/guardians were surveyed for America After 3PM. The remainder of the Progress Reports and Consumer Guides were created utilizing up to date policy and leadership developments obtained from afterschool leaders in the states, most notably the forty statewide afterschool networks. The 2011 State-by-State Progress Reports and Consumer Guides reflect the data and resources available at the time of their release in October 2011.
