Expanding learning and supports for an equitable recovery

This is Afterschool in South Dakota

In South Dakota, afterschool programs provide expanded learning opportunities to 19,722 students and are a lifeline for working families. In South Dakota, 86% of parents report that all young people deserve access to quality afterschool and summer programs. Yet, too many kids in South Dakota are being left out. In fact, for every child in an afterschool program, 2 more would participate if a program were available.

Call and response: Afterschool programs stepping up during the pandemic

From the outset of the pandemic, afterschool programs have adapted and expanded their services to best meet the needs of the children and families they serve. The Boys & Girls Clubs of the Sioux Empire partnered with the Empower Church Network and nonprofits to help fill the gap when the pandemic left families with fewer resources. Using borrowed space from the former Taco John’s building, they stored and supplied fresh fruits, vegetables, take-home activities, and more. More than 66,000 snacks and meals made it to the children in their community who needed it most.

A 2021 national survey of afterschool providers finds programs continue to provide:

Support is strong and bipartisan

A national survey of parents in the fall of 2020 found that as the pandemic continued to disrupt school schedules, most parents were concerned about their child’s social and emotional well-being and connection to peers, as well as their own ability to continue to provide learning support and/or care for their child as virtual school and distance learning extends into 2021.

Based on the 2020 America After 3PM household survey, parents in South Dakota agree that afterschool programs:

- Build positive relationships between children and adults 77%
- Keep kids safe and out of trouble 70%
- Help working parents keep their jobs 83%
- Provide working parents peace of mind 87%

A smart investment

Research spanning several states shows that every $1 invested in afterschool programs saves at least $3 by:

1. Increasing kids’ earning potential
2. Improving kids’ performance at school
3. Reducing crime and juvenile delinquency

Additionally, Community Learning Centers leverage diverse partners to meet community needs. A typical program receives $67,000 from partners to supplement its federal funding. Nationwide, partner contributions totaled more than $1 billion between 2006 and 2010.

Parents in South Dakota are behind public investment in afterschool programs

85% of parents favor public funding of afterschool programs to expand opportunities for kids in underserved communities.
