

Expanding learning and supports for an equitable recovery

This is Afterschool in Delaware

Afterschool Alliance

April 2021

In Delaware, afterschool programs provide expanded learning opportunities to 16,237 students and are a lifeline for working families. In Delaware, 82% of parents report that all young people deserve access to quality afterschool and summer programs. Yet, too many kids in Delaware are being left out. In fact, for every child in an afterschool program, 4 more would participate if a program were available.

Helping young people learn, grow, and thrive

Students in afterschool programs in Delaware are:

Interacting with peers and building social skills 91%

Getting homework help 67%

Taking part in physical activities 81%

A 2019 evaluation by MN Associates Inc. found that students participating in Delaware's 21st CCLC programs made positive academic and behavioral gains. Based on teacher surveys, more than half of students showed improvement in class participation (57%), academic performance (56%), and turning in homework on time (52%).

Parents in Delaware agree that afterschool programs:

Provide opportunities to build life skills 80%

Get kids excited about learning 72%

Reduce the likelihood that youth will use drugs or engage in other risky behaviors 75%

Call and response: Afterschool programs stepping up during the pandemic

From the outset of the pandemic, afterschool programs have adapted and expanded their services to best meet the needs of the children and families they serve. McCollough Middle School partnered with WAVE to set up both in-person and virtual grade-specific learning pods that include teachers and mentors. The pods are responsive classrooms that implement restorative practices like check-in circles, creating a safe space for students to share feelings. Las Américas ASPIRA Academy offers afterschool programs and summer learning sponsored by organizations such as the Delaware Nature Society, Delaware Museum of Natural History, Kidz That Code, 4-H, Young Rembrandts, Science Olympiad, Chinese Culture, and more.

A 2021 national survey of afterschool providers finds programs continue to provide:

Academic enrichment	94%
Time to interact with peers	86%
Physical activity	81%
Snacks or meals	77%
Check-ins with student and families	32%
In-person services during virtual school days*	24%

Looking toward the summer, 79% of providers will be offering summer programming.

Among program providers that report that they are offering in-person services.*

21st Century Community Learning Centers

21st Century Community Learning Centers (21st CCLC) are local before-school, afterschool, and summer learning programs that serve students attending high-poverty, low-performing schools, engaging students in hands-on learning activities aimed at supporting their academic growth. They provide a variety of enrichment activities to complement school-day learning and offer educational and support services to the families of participating children.

In Delaware, 3,088 children in 33 communities take part in a Community Learning Center.

21st CCLC grants are the only dedicated federal funding source that support local communities' afterschool and summer programs. Demand for programs is so great in Delaware that 3 out of every 7 applications cannot be funded.

The 2020 Department of Education annual performance report of 21st CCLC found that among regular participants:

Nearly half improved their math (48%) and English grades (48%)

69% improved homework completion and class participation

62% improved their behavior

A lifeline for working families

A national survey of parents in the fall of 2020 found that as the pandemic continued to disrupt school schedules, most parents were concerned about their child's social and emotional well-being and connection to peers, as well as their own ability to continue to provide learning support and/or care for their child as virtual school and distance learning extends into 2021.

Based on the 2020 America After 3PM household survey, parents in Delaware agree that afterschool programs:

- Build positive relationships between children and adults 73%
- Keep kids safe and out of trouble 73%
- Help working parents keep their jobs 81%
- Provide working parents peace of mind 85%

A smart investment

Research spanning several states shows that every $1 invested in afterschool programs saves at least $3 by:

- 1 Increasing kids' earning potential
- 2 Improving kids' performance at school
- 3 Reducing crime and juvenile delinquency

Additionally, Community Learning Centers leverage diverse partners to meet community needs. A typical program receives $67,000 from partners to supplement its federal funding. Nationwide, partner contributions totaled more than $1 billion between 2006 and 2010.

Parents in Delaware are behind public investment in afterschool programs

85% of parents favor public funding of afterschool programs to expand opportunities for kids in underserved communities.

Support is strong and bipartisan

93% Democrats

90% Independents

83% Republicans